It was morning two fishermen decided to drive to a nearby pond to enjoy their day in fishing. Both carried fishing equipments and reached the pond. They sat at a distance and started hunting for the fish. The first fisherman got a big and beautiful fish in a few minutes. He was so happy and placed the fish in the ice box to retain the freshness. He decided to cook the fish as a whole fish in the noon. He spent some more time and captured a few more fishes. He thought to make a grand meal with the fish. Also, he froze a few fishes to take it back home. It was almost more than an hour they were fishing. Then he spoke the second fisherman and asked him if he need any help. The second man said no. In a few minutes, the second fisherman captured a large fish, but he put that back into the lake. The first man was surprised at his act. He remained silently. The second man captured many big fishes, but he just put back all those fishes into the lake. Very annoyed by his act, the first fisherman angrily asked him, "Are you mad? Why do you put your fishes back into the water? They were beautiful and big!" The second fisherman replied, "I know they were big, but I don't have the big pan to cook the big fish! So I'm looking for a smaller fish that fits my cooking pan." By hearing this, the first fisherman was surprised. He advised the second fisherman to cut the big fish into small pieces to suit in the pan and cook them properly.